

BORAH HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT-ATHLETE NAMED GATORADE IDAHO BOYS TRACK & FIELD PLAYER OF THE YEAR

CHICAGO (June 24, 2019) — In its 34th year of honoring the nation's best high school athletes, The Gatorade Company today announced Nathan Green of Borah High School as its 2018-19 Gatorade Idaho Boys Track & Field Athlete of the Year. Green is the second Gatorade Idaho Boys Track & Field Athlete of the Year to be chosen from Borah High School.

The award, which recognizes not only outstanding athletic excellence, but also high standards of academic achievement and exemplary character demonstrated on and off the track, distinguishes Green as Idaho's best high school boys track & field athlete. Now a finalist for the prestigious Gatorade National Boys Track & Field Athlete of the Year award to be announced in June, Green joins an elite alumni association of state track & field award-winners, including Lolo Jones (1997-98, Roosevelt High School, Iowa), Allyson Felix (2002-03, Los Angeles Baptist High School, Calif.), Robert Griffin III (2006-07, Copperas Cove High School, Texas), Grant Fisher (2013-14 & 2014-15, Grand Blanc High School, Mich.) and Candace Hill (2014-15, Rockdale County High School, Ga.).

The state's Gatorade Boys Cross Country Runner of the Year last fall, the 5-foot-10, 138-pound sophomore finished sixth in the mile run at the prestigious Brooks PR Invitational this past season. Green's time of 4:06.20 ranked No. 9 in the nation among prep competitors in 2019 at the time of his selection. Green won the 1,600-meter run and the 3,200-meter run at the Class 5A state meet, leading the Lions to a fourth-place finish as a team. He ranked No. 11 in the nation among prep competitors this spring in the 1,500-meter run with a personal-best time of 3:53.16 and he was No. 44 in the 1,600, clocking a personal-best 4:11.76.

Green has volunteered locally as a youth running coach, and has donated his time to multiple community service initiatives through his church youth group. "Nathan is a one-of-a-kind athlete," said Tracy Harris, head coach of Mountain View High School. "He has unbelievable natural instincts when it comes to racing. He knows what to do and when to do it."

Green has maintained a 3.36 GPA in the classroom. He will begin his junior year of high school this fall.

The Gatorade Player of the Year program annually recognizes one winner in the District of Columbia and each of the 50 states that sanction high school football, girls volleyball, boys and girls cross country, boys and girls basketball, boys and girls soccer, baseball, softball, and boys and girls track & field, and awards one National Player of the Year in each sport. From the 12 national winners, one male and one female athlete are each named Gatorade High School Athlete of the Year. In all, 607 athletes are honored each year.

Green joins recent Gatorade Idaho Boys Track & Field Athletes of the Year Caleb Stamper (2017-18, Timberline High School), Grady Leonard (2016-17, Coeur d'Alene High School), Michael Slagowski (2015-16, Rocky Mountain High School), Elijah Armstrong (2014-15, Pocatello High School) and Josh Barclay (2013-14, Minico High School) among the state's list of former award winners.

As a part of Gatorade's cause marketing platform "Play it Forward," Green also has the opportunity to award a $1,000 grant to a local or national youth sports organization of his choosing. He is also eligible to submit an essay to win one of twelve $10,000 spotlight grants for the organization of choice, which will be announced throughout the year.

Since the program's inception in 1985, Gatorade Player of the Year award recipients have won hundreds of professional and college championships, and many have also turned into pillars in their communities, becoming coaches, business owners and educators.
