

BORAH HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT-ATHLETE NAMED
GATORADE IDAHO BOYS CROSS COUNTRY RUNNER OF THE YEAR

CHICAGO (February 10, 2020) — In its 35th year of honoring the nation's best high school athletes, The Gatorade Company today announced Nathan Green of Borah High School as its 2019-20 Gatorade Idaho Boys Cross Country Runner of the Year. Green is the first Gatorade Idaho Boys Cross Country Runner of the Year to be chosen from Borah High School.

The award, which recognizes not only outstanding athletic excellence, but also high standards of academic achievement and exemplary character demonstrated on and off the field, distinguishes Green as Idaho's best high school boys cross country runner. Now a finalist for the prestigious Gatorade National Boys Cross Country Runner of the Year award to be announced in February, Green joins an elite alumni association of past state award-winners in 12 sports, including Lukas Verzbicas (2010-11, 2009-10 Carl Sandburg High School, Orland Park, Ill.), Megan Goethals (2009-10, Rochester High School, Rochester Hills, Mich.), Jordan Hasay (2008-09, Mission College Preparatory Catholic High School, San Luis Obispo, Calif.) and Chris Derrick (2007-08, Neuqua Valley High School, Naperville, Ill.).

The state's returning Gatorade Runner of the Year, the 5-foot-10, 138-pound junior won the Class 5A state meet for a second-straight year this past season with a time of 15:13.97, breaking the tape 21.74 seconds ahead of his next-closest competitor. He earned All-American status by placing 11th at the Nike Cross Nationals Final with a time of 15:17.4 after finishing second at the NXN Northwest Regional championships for the second year in a row.

Green has volunteered locally as a youth cross country coach, and he has donated his time to multiple community service initiatives through the YMCA. "Nathan is a great kid who has thrown down some amazing times," said Greg Harm, head coach of Eagle High. "He was the dominant runner in the state."

Green has maintained a 3.36 GPA in the classroom. He will begin his senior year of high school this fall.

The Gatorade Player of the Year program annually recognizes one winner in the District of Columbia and each of the 50 states that sanction high school football, girls volleyball, boys and girls cross country, boys and girls basketball, boys and girls soccer, baseball, softball, and boys and girls track and field, and awards one National Player of the Year in each sport. From the 12 national winners, one male and one female athlete are each named Gatorade High School Athlete of the Year. In all, 607 athletes are honored each year.

Two-time winner Green joins Gatorade Idaho Boys Cross Country Runner of the Year Nicholas Russell (2017-18, Bishop Kelly High School), Austin Byrer (2016-17, Lewiston High School), Austin Stewart (2015-16, Shelley High School) and Elijah Armstrong (2014-15, Pocatello High School), among the state's list of former award winners.

As a part of Gatorade's cause marketing platform "Play it Forward," Green has the opportunity to award a $1,000 grant to a local or national youth sports organization of his choosing. He is also eligible to submit an essay to win one of twelve $10,000 spotlight grants for the organization of choice, which will be announced throughout the year.

Since the program's inception in 1985, Gatorade Player of the Year award recipients have won hundreds of professional and college championships, and many have also turned into pillars in their communities, becoming coaches, business owners and educators.
