

LONDONDERRY HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT-ATHLETE NAMED GATORADE NEW HAMPSHIRE VOLLEYBALL PLAYER OF THE YEAR

CHICAGO (January 9, 2026) — In its 41st year celebrating the nation's best high school athletes, Gatorade today announced Riley Campo of Londonderry High School is the 2025-26 Gatorade New Hampshire Volleyball Player of the Year.

Gatorade Player of the Year is the top honor in high school sports, celebrating the nation's best high school athletes for their excellence in sport, academics and community. The award recognizes Campo as New Hampshire's best high school volleyball player, and she joins an elite legacy that spans professional athletes and coaches to CEOs, such as Kerri Walsh Jennings (1995-96, Archbishop Mitty High School, CA), April Ross (1999-00, Newport Harbor High School, CA) and Campbell Flynn (2024-25, Mercy High School, MI).

The 5-foot-10 senior outside hitter compiled 251 kills while leading the Lancers to a 19-3-1 record and the Division 1 state semifinals this past season. Campo added 156 digs, 59 service aces, 42 blocks and 35 assists and was selected to play in the New Hampshire/Vermont All-Star Game. She was named Division 1 First Team All-State for a third straight season.

A member of Londonderry High School's chapter of the National Honor Society, Campo has volunteered locally as a youth volleyball and softball coach. She has also donated her time to multiple community service initiatives through the National Honor Society and Londonderry High School Athletic Leadership Council. "She's a great player," said Anna Platek, head coach at St. Anselm College. "Riley was the most dominant in the state this year."

Campo has maintained a 3.89 weighted GPA in the classroom. She has signed a written letter of athletic aid to play volleyball at St. Anselm College this fall.

The Gatorade Player of the Year program annually recognizes one state winner from each of the 50 states and Washington D.C., in 12 different sports: football, girls volleyball, boys and girls cross country, boys and girls basketball, baseball, softball, boys and girls soccer, and boys and girls track & field. In total, 610 high school athletes are honored each year. From the pool of state winners, one national winner is selected in each of the 12 sports. The selection process is administered by the Gatorade Player of the Year Selection Committee, which leverages experts including coaches, scouts, media and others as sources to help evaluate and determine the winners in each sport.

As part of Gatorade's commitment to breaking down barriers in sport, every Player of the Year also receives a grant to donate to a social impact partner. To date, the Gatorade Player of the Year program has provided more than $6.4 million in grants to winners across more than 2,200 organizations.
