ST. JOSEPH CENTRAL CATHOLIC HIGH SCHOOL HIGH SCHOOL STANDOUT NAMED GATORADE® WEST VIRGINIA GIRLS BASKETBALL PLAYER OF THE YEAR

CHICAGO (March 13, 2014) — In its 29th year of honoring the nation's best high school athletes, The Gatorade Company, in collaboration with USA TODAY High School Sports, today announced Mychal Johnson of St. Joseph Central Catholic High School as its 2013-14 Gatorade West Virginia Girls Basketball Player of the Year. Johnson is the first Gatorade West Virginia Girls Basketball Player of the Year to be chosen from St. Joseph Central Catholic High School.

The award, which recognizes not only outstanding athletic excellence, but also high standards of academic achievement and exemplary character demonstrated on and off the court, distinguishes Johnson as West Virginia's best high school girls basketball player. Now a finalist for the prestigious Gatorade National Girls Basketball Player of the Year award announced in March, Johnson joins an elite alumni association of past state girls basketball award-winners, including Candace Parker (2001-02, Naperville Central HS, Ill.), Diana Taurasi (1998-99 & 1999-00, Don Antonio Lugo HS, Calif.), Maya Moore (2005-06 Collins Hill HS, Ga.), Rashanda McCants (2004-05, Asheville HS, N.C.), Shyra Ely (1999-00, Ben Davis HS, Ind.) and Lisa Leslie (1988-89, Morningside HS, Calif.)

The 5-foot-9 senior guard led the Lady Irish to a 20-3 record and a berth in the Class A state tournament, scheduled to begin March 12. Johnson averaged 20.8 points, 5.8 rebounds, 5.6 assists and 3.1 steals through 23 games. The state's reigning Gatorade West Virginia Girls Basketball Player of the Year, she is ranked as the nation's No. 17 recruit by BlueStar Basketball and has guided St. Joseph Central to three state championships en route to an 83-17 record as a four-year varsity starter.

Johnson has maintained a 3.59 GPA in the classroom. A member of the National Honor Society, she has volunteered locally on behalf of multiple community service initiatives in association with her church youth group.

"Mychal Johnson is a dynamic player," said Keith Baisch, head coach at Mercy High in Louisville, Kentucky. "She can absolutely do it all on the court. She shoots the 3-pointer extremely well, can really get to the basket and she has a nice pull-up jumper as well."

Johnson has signed a National Letter of Intent to play basketball on scholarship at the University of Notre Dame this fall.

The Gatorade Player of the Year program annually recognizes one winner in the District of Columbia and each of the 50 states that sanction high school football, girls volleyball, boys and girls cross country, boys and girls basketball, boys and girls soccer, baseball, softball, and boys and girls track & field, and awards one National Player of the Year in each sport. The selection process is administered by the Gatorade high school sports leadership team in partnership with USA TODAY High School Sports, which work with top sport-specific experts and a media advisory board of accomplished, veteran prep sports journalists to determine the state winners in each sport.

Two time winner Johnson joins Gatorade West Virginia Girls Basketball Players of the Year Makenzie White (2011-12, Scott High School), Mariah Byard (2010-11 & 2009-10, North Marion High School), Whitney Bays (2008-09 & 2007-08, Huntington), and Mackenzie Maier (2006-07, Charleston Catholic) among the state's list of former award winners.
