

ROSELLE CATHOLIC HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT-ATHLETE NAMED GATORADE® NEW JERSEY BOYS BASKETBALL PLAYER OF THE YEAR

CHICAGO (March 26, 2020) — In its 35th year of honoring the nation's best high school athletes, The Gatorade Company, today announced Cliff Omoruyi of Roselle Catholic High School as its 2019-20 Gatorade New Jersey Boys Basketball Player of the Year. Omoruyi is the first Gatorade New Jersey Boys Basketball Player of the Year to be chosen from Roselle Catholic High School.

The award, which recognizes not only outstanding athletic excellence, but also high standards of academic achievement and exemplary character demonstrated on and off the field, distinguishes Omoruyi as New Jersey's best high school boys basketball player. Now a finalist for the prestigious Gatorade National Boys Basketball Player of the Year award, Omoruyi joins an elite alumni association of past state boys basketball award winners, including Karl-Anthony Towns (2012-13 & 2013-14, St. Joseph High School, N.J.), Dwight Howard (2003-04, Southwest Atlanta Christian Academy, Ga.), Chris Bosh (2001-02, Lincoln High School, Texas), Paul Pierce (1994-95, Inglewood High School, Calif.), Chauncey Billups (1993-94 & 1994-95, George Washington High School, Colo.) and Jason Kidd (1991-92, St. Joseph Notre Dame High School, Calif.).

The 6-foot-11, 220-pound senior center led the Lions to a 21-7 record and the North Jersey Non-Public B finals at the time of his selection. Omoruyi averaged 14.5 points, 11.8 rebounds and 5.6 blocks through 28 games. An All-State honoree, he is ranked as the nation's No. 36 recruit in the Class of 2020 by Rivals.com and was selected to play in the Allen Iverson Roundball Classic.

Omoruyi has volunteered locally on behalf of youth basketball programs. "Cliff Omoruyi is a true game-changer," said Andrew Bilodeau, head coach at Manasquan High. "He can score inside and he's just a devastating defensive player, with great timing and athleticism."

Omoruyi has maintained a 3.47 GPA in the classroom. He remains undecided upon a collegiate destination.

Omoruyi joins Gatorade New Jersey Boys Basketball Players of the Year Jabri Abdur-Rahim (2018-19, Blair Academy), Jahvon Quinerly (2017-18 & 2016-17, Hudson Catholic Regional High School), Tyus Battle (2015-16, St. Joseph High School), and Malachi Richardson (2014-15, Trenton Catholic Academy) among the state's list of former award winners.

The Gatorade Player of the Year program annually recognizes one winner in the District of Columbia and each of the 50 states that sanction high school football, girls volleyball, boys and girls cross country, boys and girls basketball, boys and girls soccer, baseball, softball, and boys and girls track & field, and awards one National Player of the Year in each sport. The selection process is administered by the Gatorade Player of the Year Selection Committee, which work with top sport-specific experts and a media advisory board of accomplished, veteran prep sports journalists to determine the state winners in each sport.

The 2019-2020 Gatorade National Boys Basketball Player of the Year announcement has been temporarily postponed due to the Coronavirus pandemic. To ensure the safety of everyone involved, The Gatorade Company will follow the guidance of experts and health officials as it determines the appropriate time to announce this year's winner.

As a part of Gatorade's cause marketing platform "Play it Forward," Omoruyi also has the opportunity to award a $1,000 grant to a local or national youth sports organization of his choosing. He is also eligible to submit an essay to win one of twelve $10,000 spotlight grants for the organization of choice, which will be announced throughout the year.

Since the program's inception in 1985, Gatorade Player of the Year award recipients have won hundreds of professional and college championships, and many have also turned into pillars in their communities, becoming coaches, business owners and educators.
